SPINK - SHREVES GALLERIES
(Dallas, TX and New York, NY)

An outstanding name collection, being awarded the Grand Prix d'Honneur at Washington '06, being offered at public auction is the simply outstanding Edward J.J. Grabowski Collection of Guadeloupe Postal History. Undoubtedly, the Edward Grabowski's collection of Guadeloupe postal history is the finest collection ever formed for this captivating French West Indies colony.

For well over twenty years, Mr. Grabowski searched the mainways and byways of philatelic world for postal history items, all of which ultimately evolved into an exhibition that paints an extraordinary picture of Guadeloupe's very fascinating and quite elusive postal history. And for his efforts, his collection was awarded philately's highest exhibiting recognition, the Grand Prix d'Honneur, at the Washington 2006 International Stamp Exhibition.

Mr. Grabowski's collection begins with a mind-boggling selection of covers using France's first adhesive stamps, including the earliest documented cover used from any of the four countries in which these stamps were introduced. The collection continues with a stunning array of different 19th century overseas and domestic usages.

In featuring the stamps of the General French Colonies and the early provisional overprints of Guadeloupe, he has amassed many beautiful and rare covers. Mr. Grabowski is particularly proud of his treatment of the postal history of the numerous small post offices on the islands, and their dependencies. Finally, not to be missed are his world-renowned Postage Due covers.
